PUBLISHED ANNUALLY BY THE STUDENTS
OF
DALLAS HIGH SCHOOL
DALLAS, NORTH CAROLINA

FOREWORD

The staff of the 1950 YELLOW JACKET has made a sincere effort to preserve a record of our past activities, and to keep alive the memory of our pleasant associations in Dallas High School.

DEDICATION

TO DR. SAMUEL WILKINS, SR., we respectfully dedicate this year's edition of YELLOW JACKET. It was he that brought many of us to life and still many more of our parents—who has taken care of us during childhood illness—who has been a major factor in our spiritual and moral as well as physical growth—who for long years served faithfully as a civic leader, being prominent in school board activities and Boy Scout work.

As one of the major results of his untiring efforts in behalf of our community and sleepless nights in protection of our physical welfare, he is no longer with us. We can but in this manner remind him and the community that he is and shall remain ever in our thoughts and prayers.

And so, in appreciation and recognition of your selfless devotion to your friends and mankind, and in a sincere wish for your speedy return to our midst, we dedicate our record of this year's activities at Dallas High School to you, Dr. Wilkins, our life long leader and friend.

"As We Wuz"

CLASS HISTORY

As we thumb through the pages of the history of the Class of '50 we find that in 1946, a group of eager, wide-eyed Freshmen entered the portals of a new and mystic world. They were filled with wonder and amazement, but they were guided safely through this important year by Mrs. Cloninger and Mrs. Austelle.

As we turn another page in our history, we see our class sponsors, Mrs. Elliott and Miss DeVane, who led us safely through this year, and therefore we were happy Sophomores.

In the autumn of '48 a large crowd of Juniors again entered DHS. The Beta Club claimed several members of this intelligent class. We had to undergo a tough initiation, but in the end we passed with flying colors and were proud and honored to say that we were members. Next we had to plan and work toward the presentation of a Junior Senior Banquet, in which the "Good Luck" theme was carried out. Our class sponsors made this and the other things we undertook possible and we are indebted to Mrs. Friday and Mr. Sassaman for their true friendship to us. These officers were elected: President, Bill Best; Vice-President, Charles Edison; Secretary, Wilma Paysour; and Treasurer, Ellen Beam.

Class of '50 has been a very versatile class, interested in many activities. They played football, basketball, and baseball and helped to win the many victories that made the school proud of them. The many duties that confronted us were the election of class officers: President, Bill Stines; Vice-President, Jack Withers; Secretary, Joanna Cloninger; and Treasurer, Peggy Penley. These people were elected to the offices as follows: Historian, Wilma Paysour; Poet, Joanna Cloninger; Prophetess, Viva Graybeal; and Lawyer, Charlie Hoyle.

Our duties included the selection of the class flower, motto, and colors. They are respectively: sweetpeas, "Before us lies timber—let us build," and blue and white. Our class sponsor is Miss Connie Crump.

Then we bid good-bye to our alma mater and go out to seek wider fields: some to college, some to business jobs, and some into special training. But wherever we are and whatever we do we will carry with us the ideals and the principles we have received here, and our thoughts will ever turn lovingly to Dallas High.

WILMA PAYSOUR, Historian

SAILING

A crowd of Seniors—soon we'll go
We know not how the winds will blow
We will sail Life's mystic sea
Each is facing Destiny.

The ship we have is strong and sure
For now we know it will endure
Built upon our honored lives
That is why she still survives.

And though we leave dear DHS
The years to come will put to test
Whether we have lost or won
In all the things we have begun.

Somewhere—sometime on land or sea
We hope we all with conscience free
Can meet and say "My best I've done
Old Dallas High, I've victories won!"

OLD HOME WEEK

It is the year 1965 and a beautiful evening in June. Everywhere in the town of Dallas are huge posters reading, "Old Home Week." Many days ago, invitations were sent to all former residents urging them to attend and stressing particularly this evening when a wonderful entertainment is to be given. All the talent for this program is strictly home talent. Every performer was at one time a resident of this town and was graduated from our high school.

The hour for the great event has arrived. Every seat in the vast new auditorium is filled, and all are eagerly awaiting the performance in which many delightful surprises have been promised. It is truly a festive occasion.

Seated in the audience are many celebrities. As I look about me, I see a number of my old classmates. There is E. C. Pasour, our kind-hearted friend, who became very wealthy through wise investments. His money is paying for much of the Old Home Week expenditures.

The ladies in the front seats are all so stylishly and becomingly dressed that they arouse my curiosity. I am told that their beautiful garments come from the very select, not to say expensive, shop of Evelyn Williams who designs gowns for all the best-dressed women in the country.

Seated near her is Jack Burgin, a real estate dealer, who owns so much property that he has to keep a card index of it in order to know it himself.

Seated at one side, watching with interest, I see Ann Rutledge, dignified and haughty. I ask about her and am told that she is the head mistress of a very fashionable girls' school in Dallas and has never married although she has suitors innumerable.

Standing in the door, looking for old friends, I see Buddy Seagle, editor of the largest daily paper in the state, with his private secretary, Doris Holland.

Two people, entering, receive a warm reception from the committee at the door. They are Dr. Brady Lineberger, a famous surgeon in a large hospital and, attractive as ever, Wilma Paysour, superintendent of nurses in the same hospital.

A round of applause greets the man just taking a seat by the window. He looks familiar and yet not quite familiar enough. He waves his hands around and talks excitedly. It is G. L. Lutz. And what do you suppose he is? He's turned his knowledge to good account and now he is the weather man. It was he who furnished the splendid weather for the Old Home Week and that is why he was so wildly applauded.

A woman is sketching the people as they came in and doing it very well, indeed, for I peep over her shoulder to see. Yes, it's Geraldine Abernathy. She has become quite famous as an illustrator of magazine stories and newspaper articles.

And now the entertainment is to begin. The lights in the auditorium fade and the footlights flash on.

Before the packed house appears a tall, dignified figure who makes an eloquent address of welcome. I remember our famous class debater, Charlie Hoyle. He was a lawyer for a time and now is a Judge of the State Supreme Court. He acts as master of ceremonies and after his excellent speech introduces the performers. But first he calls attention to the beautiful flowers and other decorations, saying that they are the gift of Ellen Beam and Doris Willis, owners of the leading florist of the town. The Judge announces that after the entertainment refreshments will be served through the courtesy of Miss Carolyn Pasour, who is proprietor of the delightful Old Home Tea Room. My mouth waters in anticipation, for I have not forgotten the delightful refreshments she served when she entertained the class years ago.

We have regrets from several important people who were unable to attend the Old Home Week Celebration. Leonard Smith and Bill Stines, who are very scientific farmers and know all about rotation of crops, couldn't come because they are busy with harvesting winter wheat and summer squash. Joanna Cloninger, who is a stewardess on Earl Bell's Eagle Airliner, is in flight from London to Berlin. President Bob Adairington sent greetings from Key West where he is vacationing with Senator Allan Humphrey and Congressman Bob Long. Virginia Tanner is attending the International Bread-baking contest in Bern, Switzerland, and Marjorie Wright will give the lecture on how to feed people for seven days on twenty-three cents. And also, Barbara Robinson is in Texas, where she will ride in all the All-Texas Horse Races.

Now the entertainment proper begins. There is gay music, like circus music. Then on the darkened stage in the spotlight, appears a dainty figure, kissing her hand to the audience. It is Peggy Penley, arranging a wire across the stage for Peggy Taylor, who always said she would be a dancer in a circus. The Judge says she is the most clever wire dancer in the world.

Then the Judge introduces a prosperous looking man who he says is a Broadway song writer and the author of many popular song hits. It is Robert Wright and he plays and sings for us his last three compositions and very good they are. Next comes a big surprise: Miss Glorianna De Lorme, the famous movie actress and it is our old friend, Neva Ruth Taylor, very much changed. She has golden hair and is better looking than ever but she seems to have acquired a foreign accent. It's no surprise to us that she's such a success in pictures with Macie Lineberger as her producer and Mary Sue Lineberger as stage manager. Next is a famous violinist who plays the most beautiful music for us. Yes, of course, it's Robert Kanipe and he plays even better than we always said he would. He has just returned from a concert tour in Europe. In fact he returned a week earlier just to attend the Old Home Week Celebration. The spotlight is now shifted to the great auditorium organ and the Judge introduces Louise Dutton, now organist in a city church and teacher in an institute of organ music. And now, out upon the platform strolls Jerry Ballard, with a little book in his hand. He needs no introduction from the Judge, for we all recognize him at once, Jerry, the author of those delightful short stories. He reads us two of them and then gives a charming little talk, telling how his old friends Becky Jenkins and Jack Withers inspired many of his best stories in the field of sports. Then, last of all, looking stunning in an elaborate evening gown, comes Anne White. She is a writer of plays and has three successful ones running on Broadway now. Starring in them are Ruby Randolph and Joan Rudisill. Anne makes a friendly little speech, addressing particularly our superintendent, Mr. Mitchell Carr, and the members of the faculty, who are in the audience enjoying the program. Then the entire audience rises, as the performers all appear on the stage at once. Our organist and our violinist play and, led by our composer, we all sing our class song of 1950 and adjourn for the promised refreshments from Carolyn's Old Home Tea Room.

It has been a real delight to see all our old friends so young and prosperous, so generous of their money and talent. In short, it has been an Old Home Week to be proud of and the old home folks should be happy to have such celebrities as these for their very own.

VIVA LOYD GRAYBEAL

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, a duly authorized attorney of the Bar of Dallas, have gathered the Seniors of 1950 together for this solemn occasion to make their last will and testament.

We, the Seniors of 1950, being of sound mind and good faith, make our first, last, and only will and testament as follows:

ARTICLE I

To Mr. Carr and the faculty we will our great abundance of patience.

ARTICLE II

To the Seniors of '51 we will our Senior privileges which we did not have.

ARTICLE III

To the Juniors of '51 we will our sympathy for the horrible task of raising money for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

ARTICLE IV

To the Sophomores we will the responsibility of training the Freshmen to have the proper school spirit.

ARTICLE V

I, Joanna Cloninger, do hereby will and bequeath nothing to nobody, because I need it all myself.
I, E. C. Pasour, do hereby will and bequeath my voice to anyone who can teach it to sing.
I, Mary Sue Lineberger, do hereby will and bequeath my English book to Thelma Cloninger and I hope she gets more out of it than I did.
I, Jack Withers, do hereby will and bequeath my position as Captain of the Basketball team to Tom Rhyne.
I, Doris Willis, do hereby will and bequeath my position as "Football Queen" to Faye Helen Friday.
I, Wilma Paysour, do hereby will and bequeath the top of my basketball uniform to anyone who wants to feel as important as I did.
I, Viva Loyd Graybeal, do hereby will and bequeath my position in the Senior Superlatives to Sara High.
I, Allan Humphery, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to make good grades in English to Arnold Cloninger.
I, Ann Rutledge, do hereby will and bequeath anything in my possession to whoever needs it more than I do.
I, Carolyn Pasour, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep quiet in English to my little brother.
I, Bob Wright, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to sing tenor to Clyde Smith.
I, Ruby Randolph, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to do shorthand to anyone who is crazy enough to take it.
I, Bob Long, do hereby will and bequeath my ability of catching big fish to Bill Withers.
I, Peggy Taylor, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be quiet in school to Gene Moore.
I, Neva Ruth Taylor, do hereby will and bequeath my place in the superlatives to Doris Jolly.
I, Bill Stines, do hereby will and bequeath my car keys to anybody with a taxi license.
I, Peggy Penley, do hereby will and bequeath my second year Latin book to my sister, Faye, and I hope she uses it!
I, Becky Jenkins, do hereby will and bequeath my position on the basketball team to Carole Dean Hoffman.
I, Ellen Beam, do hereby will and bequeath my basketball shoes to anyone who has the foundation for them.
I, Louise Dutton, do hereby will and bequeath my bookkeeping book to anyone who wants hard work.
I, Jerry Ballard, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get along with Miss Crump to my brother, Tommy.
I, Geraldine Abernathy, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get along with people to Marlene Hovis.
I, Buddy Seagle, do hereby will and bequeath my place in English to Evelyn Holland and hope she does as well as I did.
I, Evelyn Williams, do hereby will and bequeath my disability to type to anyone who wants to suffer under Mr. Franklin.
I, Leonard Smith, do hereby will and bequeath my bus to anyone who can live on $20.00 per month!
I, Joan Rudisill, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to make "A" in English while studying Latin to anybody that needs it.
I, Bob (Trouble) Addington, do hereby will and bequeath my position on the football team to anyone who is crazy enough to take it.
I, Anne White, do hereby will and bequeath my geometry book to anyone who wants to stunt their growth by hard work.
I, Brady Lineberger, do hereby will and bequeath my knowledge of bookkeeping to Phil Brown.
I, Virginia Tanner, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be late every morning and get by with it to anyone who likes to sleep late.
I, Faye Handsel, do hereby will and bequeath my marriage license to anyone who feels that they will need it soon.
I, G. L. Lutz, do hereby will and bequeath my position as Vice-President of F.F.A. to Franklin Hoffman because I think he deserves it.
I, Macie Lineberger, do hereby will and bequeath my Latin Book II to anyone who enjoys the subject.
I, Robert Kanipe, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to make good English grades to Bill Estes.
I, Margie Wright, do hereby will and bequeath my neatness to Anne Alderson.
I, Jack Burgin, do hereby will and bequeath my possessions, all of them, and especially my quietness and good studying in English to Tom Rhyne.
I, Barbara Robinson, do hereby will and bequeath my riding pants to anyone who wants them.
I, Charlie Hoyle, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to make an impromptu speech to Miss Crump.
I, Doris Holland, do hereby will and bequeath my shorthand book to anyone who will take it.
In witness thereof, we have subscribed our signatures, and fixed our seal, hereby revoking all previous wills made by us and substituting this as good will for our many misdeeds.
